816 Wells Street,
MARINETTE, WIS., Sept. 25, 1903.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

ADOPTED RUSSIAN TACTICS.

Unfortunate as the Russian soldiers are in the present war, they have the consolation of knowing that their tactics are greatly admired by the troops of the emir of Bokhara. A French traveler in Asia reports that the favorite military exercise of the emir's warriors is to lie on their backs at the sound of the trumpet and kick their legs in the air. Perplexed by this singular action, the visitor made inquiries and found that it was borrowed from the Russians, who, when they were subduing Bokhara, had to wade through many streams and when they reached dry ground used to lie on their backs to shake the water out of their boots. Greatly struck by this performance, the natives took it to be a sign of military efficiency and hastened to strengthen their own fighting force by adopting it.—London Chronicle.

Got the Wrong Man.

A Washington photographer wanted the picture of the president's friend, Seth Bullock, the sheriff of Deadwood, who was selected to lead the cowboy bunch in the inaugural procession. He sent an assistant out to round up Bullock and bring him to be photographed. Presently the assistant came back with a gray mustached man in tow and announced that this was the man wanted. The man sat for several pictures. As he was going out the clerk in the gallery said, "By the way, Mr. Bullock, please give me your full name for the pictures." "Bullock nothing!" said the man. "I am not Bullock. I am Morgan Bulkeley, senator elect from Connecticut!"

And It Was Confidential.

Speaker Cannon writes a very bad hand. Not long ago he sent a note to Representative Cushman of Washington. Cushman could make nothing of it. So he took it to a colleague, who managed to decipher two or three words. Another congressman was visited, with the same result, but the joint labor of half a dozen of them was necessary to even an incomplete translation, for the last three words had to be given up as undecipherable. So Cushman took the note to Cannon and asked him what the baffling phrase was. Cannon glanced at it and said, "That is 'Personal and confidential.'"

Tibetan Grand Lamas.

The grand lamas of Tibet have never for 100 years been allowed to attain their majority. Chosen for his semidivine position in infancy, the grand lama has been allowed to grow up until he was just approaching eighteen, and then suddenly he has disappeared, and once more an infant reigns in the great, high position. It says something for the dalai lama of today that he is the first who for 100 years has been able to pass the Rubicon of his majority. But he only did this by anticipating the slayers and slaying them.—T. P.'s Weekly, London.

A Coon Story.

The prize coon story of the season comes from Stillwater, Me. While John Pooler was working up some firewood with a crosscut saw he was startled to find his saw suddenly become bloody. Upon further investigation Mr. Pooler found that he had sawed through the backbone of a big coon, which had crawled into the log to spend the winter. The year 1905 will be recalled in Stillwater as the one in which John Pooler entertained his friends with a coon dinner in February.

His Dinner Rule.

Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia tells a story of a friend whose stoutness and constant good humor are his chief distinctions. "We happened to be talking on the subject of gastronomy," said the mayor, "and somehow my friend's tremendous girth prompted me to ask him if he followed any set rules to guide him in his eating. 'I have just one rule,' he replied, 'and it's a winner. When I sit down to eat I sit six inches or so from the table, and when I touch I'm done.'"

Beet Root Pest.

A new beet root pest is reported from Paris. It is a small, blackish beetle known as the Attica tibialis, which until recent years was hardly known except on the shores of the Mediterranean and in Brittany. A solution, which is to be sprayed on the beet at sunset, has been invented, consisting of tobacco juice, 10 parts, by weight; methylated spirits, 10; black soap, 10; carbonate of soda, 2, and water, 1,000 parts.

Hind Sight.

A Salem (Mass.) plumber who built a dog house in the back shop and had to take it apart in order to get it out where he could use it is in much the same position as the Taunton man who built a boat in a shed and then had to raise the shed three or four feet in the air on blocks in order that the craft might be removed.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Although the Judge Was Confused, He Recovered Hit Wit.

Some fifty years ago Justice William T. Spear was a well known lawyer in Plymouth, Mass., and took great interest in town affairs, being always present at town meetings and speaking with point and force.

"I AM NOT HERE TO BE BARKED AT BY EVERY PUPPY."

On one occasion he arose in town meeting and began, "I am not here, Mr. Moderator"—

Apparently confused, he hesitated a moment and then began again, "I am not here, sir"—

He paused again, and upon this a young man in the assembly cried out, "Tell us where you are then!"

Mr. Spear turned and, shaking his finger at the young man, said, "I am not here, sir, to be barked at by every puppy that crawls into the town house!" Then, turning to the moderator, he made an effective speech on the measure before the meeting.—Boston Herald.

Cannon's Definition.

Just as soon as Uncle Joe Cannon reached Washington at the opening of the session he hunted up in the committee rooms a number of his old cronies, several of whom in the Democratic ranks came in for a bit of chaffing at the hands of the genial speaker.

Uncle Joe was glad to perceive that such of his friends the enemy who had gone down in the recent election were in nowise as knocked out in spirits as they had been in the election.

"I'm proud of you, boys," said he, "for I don't find a pessimist in the crowd."

"By the way, Cannon," said some one, "what is your definition of a pessimist?"

"A pessimist," asserted Uncle Joe, with convincing gravity, "is a fellow that goes around looking for thorns to sit on."—New York Times.

Knew Who Abraham Was.

James Hooe, secretary to Justice McKenna and one of the well known young men of Washington, was unexpectedly drafted a Sunday or two ago to teach a class in Sunday school. The regular teacher was ill.

Mr. Hooe decided the best and safest tack for him was to question the children on their knowledge of Bibical characters. He turned to the first boy in the row and asked, "My son, who was Nebuchadnezzer?"

"He ate grass," announced the boy, with an air that showed he wondered what sort of a chap was asking that simple question.

"Now, my boy," said Mr. Hooe to the next lad, "you tell me who Abraham was."

"Sure!" that boy replied. "He was the gent that freed the colored ladies and gentlemen from slavery."—New York World.

The Minister and the Widow.

The Rev. Samuel Robbins, a brother of the late Rev. Chandler Robbins of Boston, was noted for his wit. One of his best retorts was made in Framingham Center, where forty years ago he was pastor of the Unitarian church.

He had heard that a young widow in his congregation was intending again to enter the matrimonial state, and, as he knew her very well, he broached the subject to her.

"Yes," she replied, "I feel that my little son Edward needs a father's care."

"Oho!" exclaimed Mr. Robbins. "So you're going to get married to raise Ned!"—Boston Herald.

Capital of Ireland.

A few years since, it will be remembered, the lord mayor of Dublin, Daniel Tallon, visited America and was feted and dined on every hand, says the New York Herald. When in Boston he was entertained at an elaborate dinner given for him by Mayor Quincy. In the small talk which followed the courses some one jestingly asked if Dublin was not the metropolis as well as the capital of Ireland. The lord mayor was ready with a reply.

"It used to be," he said, "but at present there is no question but that New York has that honor."

A VERSATILE TRADESMAN.

The thriftiest man in the United States lives in Louisville. He has trades that fit any climate, season or time of the day. As an example of his wonderful versatility, a friend tells the following story of an average day in the life of this strenuous man:

One morning last week he started out with a rug to sell on commission for an installment house. He sold the rug and then came back and took out a clock, which he also disposed of. About noon he was called by an undertaker to embalm a body, which he did. Another undertaker sent for him to drive a hearse to the cemetery, and after he had disposed of this errand satisfactorily he preached a short sermon at the grave.

He drove the hearse back to town and filled in an afternoon for a candymaker who was taken suddenly ill.

In the evening he worked from 6 until 8 o'clock in a barber shop and from that hour until midnight set type on a daily newspaper.—Louisville Post.

A Universal Alphabet.

A movement is on foot for the calling of an international conference on the adoption of a universal phonetic alphabet. It is suggested that the Roman alphabet should serve as the basis, but that slight modifications be made in the forms of the letters, which would not interfere with their legibility to any one familiar with them in their present shape, in order to indicate the precise sounds for which they stand. Such an alphabet, it is maintained, would enable any one to pronounce correctly at a glance the words of a foreign language, because the spelling, apart from a few special sounds, would be the same as in his own language. There is said to be no language so hindered by its spelling as the English.

One Who Had Enough.

Baron Rothschild, the head of the French branch of the family, recently received a curious legacy. This was the fortune of an ancient beggar named Abraham Fidler, who died in a garret at Nice and was found to possess 1,250,000 francs. He bequeathed it to the other millionaire on the plea that "money must seek money." Baron Rothschild was not of the opinion, in this case at any rate, and he proceeded to hunt up the lamented Fidler's poor relations, three of whom were found at Odessa and a fourth at Brooklyn. The legatee divided the million and a quarter among them with absolute contempt for the wishes of the pious testator.

Ireland's Great Orator.

Mr. Healy has really wonderful gifts of oratory. He is today the most brilliant speaker in the house of commons. He has not Mr. Redmond's grace and polish. He has nothing indeed in the nature of either. But his attack is cruelly effective. He never spares either his nominal opponents opposite or his real ones sitting around him. He is the only sardonic speaker in the house. There is a grimness, a constant ring of challenge that is repellent or attractive as you are the object of his uncharitable attention or merely the delighted detached observer.—London Saturday Review.

The State of Maine.

A really curious question has been raised by the Boston Herald. Why, it asks, does a Maine man always speak of his part of the country as "the state of Maine" instead of calling it simply "Maine," as a New Yorker would say "New York" or a Nebraskan "Nebraska?" As an adequate answer to the inquiry, it says: "Maine was not one of the original states, but up to 1820 was a part of Massachusetts. It was then known as the District of Maine. In 1820 Maine achieved her independence and became a separate state of the Union."

Odd Railroad Accident.

There was a queer railroad accident in South Africa recently. Instead of running into something the train threw something out. The object thrown out was a white child. The baby was sitting on a table in one of the saloons of an express train. In rounding a sharp curve the child was shot out of the window. The distracted mother quickly stopped the train. Search being made along the line, the youngster was found little the worse for its experience, but crying vigorously.

The Smallest Dictionary.

The University of California has received what it thinks is the smallest dictionary in the world. The book is a French-English dictionary one and an eighth inches long by three-fourths of an inch wide. It was printed first in large type and then reduced to its present size by photographic methods. Each page contains about 110 words, the book containing 630 pages.

Bond for a Sewer System.

BONDING for a sewer system should be seriously considered. Put the town in a modern sanatary condition. Let us have modern conveniences. People used to modern conveniences will not locate in a town where ancient conditions exist. Other towns are not neglecting to provide for this important improvement. Sonoma must keep pace with them.

It has never been determined just what a sewer system would cost but if we ever intend to have one now is the time to consider it.

If it is not done now it will only be a question of a few years when we will be compelled to call another election for the purpose. The day of the cesspool is past. The motto of today is "modern improvements for modern cities." Cloverdale is to bond for $80,000, $18,000 of which is for a sewer system.

Types of Men That Never Learn.

THE observer of the world's happenings—the observer of human nature—will not accept the disputed theory that the world is growing worse or that is is becoming better. The latter would be hard to believe even by the most optimistic and the pessimist must admit that the old cause and effect doctrine still holds good since human nature has been the same the world over. Human nature may have been clothed in other forms than at present. It may be differently veneered. It may have a different complexion, but stripped of all artifice it is the same for all time.

The Shylock of Shakespeare's time has his counterpart in our time. The Cæsars, Neros, Napoleons, Byrons all have their counterparts today. Change human nature, curb human passions and we may have different types of men. Until then we will have the good and evil that has ever been.

We have crime, revolution, tyranny and licentiuosness today as it was centuries ago. There have been many tax collector Smiths in the world. They may not have been tax collectors and there is a possibility that their names may not have been Smith, but they had the same inner consciousness, the same weakness, the same immorality, and the same irresponsibility.

There have been other Bunkers, too. Perhaps their names were not Bunker (it might have been Bunkoer), but they had the identical shady nature, the immorality, the greed, the foolish daring, the petty ambition possessed by the disgraced Senator.

Hoff, the man credited with so many wife murders, is the duplicate of the fictional Bluebeard, who in turn had his counterpart in the real life of the time.

Such types of men never seem to learn a lesson however, from their predecessors, but following the line of least resistance they sink into the depths and suffer the punishments that they might have escaped had they profited by the experiences of their fellows.

IN Wisconsin there's a bill,
" Anti-graft," and it will kill
The custom of always tipping waiters.
For it's now against the law
And considered pretty raw
To fee the fellow who provides and caters.
In Frisco it is strange
How the waiters keep the change,
Or as much of it as they possibly can.
But we trust it won't be long
Till our laws will say its wrong
To give a tip to any waiter man.

REAL art should be such a good imitation of reality that the illusion is complete. For this reason it seems bad art and poor taste for great tragedians to stalk out to the foot-lights for applause directly after they have been slain with swords or poisoned with deadly potions. We see this done very often but it does not please an audience to be awakened so ruthlessly from fiction to reality. It is in such details that the dramatic art ought to be perfected.

SONOMA has another good example of a progressive sister city. Sebastopol held a municipal bond election on Tuesday which resulted in a big victory. The people voted the sum of $37,000 for a water system, $16,000 for a sewer system, $500 for a town jail, $3,000 for a fire engine, $1,500 for 2000 feet of fire hose and $2,000 for municipal purposes. The merchants of Sebastopol have also liberally subscribed for a series of summer band concerts.

WITH all the complaints about the weather, if it were not for the " gentle rain from heaven " the streets of Sonona would be very dusty and then there would be a kick coming.

THE true friend does not remain silent when an enemy is speaking ill of you. He speaks out and takes your part, but how few of us do that.

THE fact that Sonoma contemplates erecting a City Hall is being published in all the papers in the State.

THE man who lost two arms and will still live would have his hands full if he had any.

The New Brewery.

The new brewery is looming up these days. It is three stories high with a tank on the roof and is an imposing enough edifice to be mistaken for the City Hall.

Some of the machinery has been installed and the proprietors are awaiting the completion of the building to begin business.

The Kisers are erecting a house on First-street West.

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

OPEN-TOP OBSERVATION CARS

Something New for Travelers to the East

A novelty in railway passenger equipment will shortly be introduced by the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company. That company is now building a number of open top observation cars to be attached during the summer months to its daylight trains running through the Royal Gorge, Grand Canon of the Arkansas, Canon of the Grand River, and the Black Canon of the Gunnison. These cars are of modern construction and have a seating capacity for seventy-two persons; sides but no tops, being entirely open, thus giving passengers from California to the East a free and unobstructed view of the grand scenery of the Rocky Mountains.

These cars will be entirely at the service—free of charge—to all occupants of through sleepers of all classes.

This is but one of the many comforts and advantages offered by this, The Scenic Line of the World. Ask W. J. Shotwell, General Agent, 625 Market street, San Francisco, for handsomely illustrated traveler's guide; sent free of charge.

There is no better place to stop in San Francisco than at the Langham Hotel, corner of Ellis and Mason streets. It is six stories high, fire-proof, convenient to all attractions, close to all car lines, and offers all the advantages of superior hotel service at small cost. The rooms are large, clean and well ventilated and the management courteous, polite and hospitable. Write for booklet and rates. *

There was a goodly number of passengers aboard and the people of Napa are high in their praises of the time-saving communication through this new road.

The late Sunday afternoon train service between here and San Francisco will be inagurated tomorrow afternoon.

BOND ELECTION FOR NEW CITY HALL.

Trustee McDonell Makes a Motion to that Effect and His Colleagues, Excepting Breitenbach, Vote Aye

The most important meeting of the present City Trustees held in Sonoma was that of Wednesday evening when Trustee Ranald McDonell made a motion that the clerk be instructed to have the city attorney prepare papers calling for a bond election to raise funds for the new city hall.

This action followed the resolution of last month stating the necessity for the new municipal structure. Trustee McDonell declared himself to be highly in favor of bonding and keeping pace with the progressive towns and cities of today.

Trustee Geo. Breitenbach said: "I am opposed to bonding on general principles." He further stated that his predecessors found the old way of saving money for the purpose good enough and that the old way should be good enough for the present Board. He declared he was elected on a platform pledged against bonds and would therefore oppose the issue.

The President of the Board, J. E. Poppe, stated his position, saying that, although he had opposed bonding for the water system, he was in favor of bonding for the city hall, as it was a public necessity and the people's sentiment was in favor of a bond election. He declared he would do all in his power to further it. The motion, which called for bonding the town for $10,000 for the erection and completion of the city hall, the opening of streets and avenues, was carried by the following vote:

Breitenbach—No.
Hotz—Yes.
McDonell—Yes.
Pinelli—Yes.
Poppe—Yes.

The city fathers calculate that with the $5,000 in the city hall fund and an additional $10,000 they will be able to put up the city hall and equip it in a first-class manner.

Their action is a step in the right direction but there are many citizens in favor of bonding for a larger sum as long as the city is going to the expense of an election.

Santa Rosa voted over $200,000, $72,250 for a sewer system, and $90,500 for other improvements.

Sebastopol has voted $60,000, $16,000 of which is for a sewer system.

Why cannot Sonoma be bonded for a sewer system?

A sewer system is the foundation for all modern cities. Let the city investigate the cost of a sewer system for Sonoma. Let the cost be determined. It may be possible to put in a system of modern drainage for a moderate sum. Let us have this, too, if possible.

Let us have a handsome city hall well equipped and let us get enough money to improve the grounds surrounding it.

Suppose we should bond the town for $30,000 for the city hall, a sewer system and other improvements. It would mean only a small amount of money to pay the interest on the bonds, while the principal could be paid by a future generation.

The dawn of progress is upon Sonoma. May she take her rightful place among the-up-to-date cities of California.

Rudolph Spreckels to Rebuild.

Rudolph Spreckels will shortly have an elegant new home built on the site of the old mansion in this valley which was destroyed by fire some time ago. Its beautiful lawn slopes down to the county road, where it is bordered for several miles with honey suckle vines and roses.

Mr. Spreckels has a fine racing stable on the place, a deer park, artificial lake and golf links.

One Thousand Chicks.

E. T. Allen of La Lomita is the proud possessor of one thousand little chicks. The chickens are five days old and are among Mr. Allen's possessions which are to form a foundation for a very large poultry farm.

The opening catertainment and dance of the Agua Caliente Springs takes place this evening.

The Sonoma Valley Woman's Club was requested to have the fountain placed in the center of the Broadway walk on the edge of the plaza instead of on to one side.

It was decided to investigate the the grass planted by the Ladies' Club as it is said to be injurious.

Messrs. Palstine and Thompson appeared before the Board and requested permission to plant out the west end of the plaza in lawn and flowers. They agreed to attend to the cultivation of the same if the Trustees would lay pipes so that they could get sufficient water. The permit was granted with the proviso that satisfactory arrangement be made about the water.

The motion made and carried at a previous meeting regarding the cemetery water permit was rescinded and made to read that those who paid for the pipes, etc., should have the use of the water in the cemetery.

An ordinance was passed and read for the first time granting the California Northwestern, through L. Quartaroli, permission to lay a railway track across Fourth street East.

The Board adjourned to next Wednesday evening after an animated discussion concerning bonding.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Directions For Making a Good, Hard Laundry Soap.

To make hard soap add to three pounds of washing soda a pound and a half of unslaked lime and two gallons of boiling water. Let it stand until perfectly clear, then drain and add three pounds of good, clean fat. Put over the fire and boil until the mixture hardens, which will be in the course of two or two and a half hours. But watch and stir most of the time. After the mixture has boiled half the time add one gallon of cold water which was poured on the sediment remaining after the two gallons of water were drained off. Just before taking from the fire add a small handful of salt. Wet a small tub to prevent sticking, turn in the soap and let it stand until solid. Cut into cakes and put on a shelf to dry.

Slippery Elm Cough Drops.

Break two ounces of slippery elm bark into small pieces and put into a bowl with two ounces of flaxseed and a cup of water. Cover and stand aside for an hour, then strain through a fine sieve. Put three cups of brown sugar into a saucepan, add the mucilaginous water, stir over the fire until the sugar is dissolved, then boil for five minutes. Add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and boil until brittle when dropped in cold water. Pour in greased tins and when partly cooled cut in lozenges.

Rose Jar.

Pack petals in a jar with alternate layers of salt. Continue this until the jar is full, adding fresh petals and salt daily. Keep in a cool, dry place for a week after the last layer has been added. Turn all upon a platter and toss and turn and mix them with the spices and perfumes mentioned below. Return to the jar, cover and leave untouched for some weeks. It will be good and fragrant for years.

To Dry Clean a Rug.

Stretch the rug smoothly on the floor after beating out all the dust, and rub dry fuller's earth into it down to the warp. Do this thoroughly. Cover with a fresh supply of the earth and leave alone for several days. Beat then on both sides, getting out all the powder. Cover with dry, fine salt and sweep twice, once against the nap, once with it. This will freshen the colors.

To Wash Velveteen.

Even velveteen can be washed if rightly done. Soak it first in tepid water, and then cleanse without soap. Add to a tepid rinse water one cup of brown sugar, and pass the garment through this. Dry it out of doors and iron it on the wrong side, not laying it flat on a table, but with two persons holding it between their hands. This raises the pile.

Old Tea Leaves.

Let them gather for a few days, then soak them in water in a tin pail for half an hour, strain through a sieve, and use liquor for cleaning varnished paint. It makes it look like new. But do not use on unvarnished paint. It cleans windows, mirrors and oilcloth, and the leaves squeezed dry are desirable to scatter over a carpet before sweeping.

Care of Cane Seated Chairs.

The elasticity of cane seated chairs may be restored by turning up the seat and washing the cane work well with hot water and a sponge, so that it becomes thoroughly soaked. If it is very dirty a little soap may be used with benefit. The chairs should then be dried in the air, and they will be as good as new.

Cold Water For Catarrh.

Our northern wells contain the most excellent mineral waters. Morning and evening cleanse your nasal passages and gargle the throat with fresh cold water. This will cure a catarrh without the aid of medicine and will relieve most colds.

Giving Powders to Children.

A successful method of giving children powders is to cut open a small piece of chocolate cream. This is one of the easiest ways of inducing a child to take a powder and less sickish than the usual spoonful of jelly.

To Remove Corns.

A soft, painful corn will disappear after three weeks' regular treatment by the old fashioned remedy of binding nightly in common baking soda moistened with a little water.

Freshening Carpets.

To the ordinary combination of warm water and ammonia used for freshening carpets add a tablespoonful of kerosene, and the result will be still more satisfactory.

Cure For Burns.

One of the most soothing applications for a fresh burn is raw potato scraped or grated and bound like a poultice on the injured surface.

To Make a Pencil Write by Itself.

Take a round box with flat surfaces (such a box as druggists put pills in). Through the center of both lid and box pierce a hole, through which a well sharpened pencil is allowed to pass. Put a bit of sealing wax around the pencil to hold it firmly in place. Twirl the pencil as one would spin a top, and a number of strange designs will be found traced upon the paper placed beneath. Paste this paper on a piece of cardboard, and if this be held firmly with one hand and tilted from side to side with the other many extraordinary designs will be made.

For Boys and Girls.

Don't talk too much, and try to always say something worth while when you do speak. No greater bore in society that he or she who talks incessantly. Others besides oneself have ideas to advance. Brilliant conversation depends upon intellectual listeners as well as talkers. Cultivate a low, well modulated voice, and avoid excitability in speech and manner.

Courageous Jap Children.

The courage and valor for which the Japanese are famous are instilled into them from their earliest infancy, says a Japanese writer. When a baby cries his mother scolds him and says: "What a coward to cry for a trifling pain! What will you do when your arm is cut off in battle? What when you are called upon to commit harakiri?"

Stopped Watching.

Our little three-year-old neighbor had received a toy watch. When one morning she came over without it she was asked why she didn't wear it.

"Oh," she said, "my watch is broken. It won't watch any more."

Very Queer.

I was playing in the kitchen when a
"licious piece of ice
Came in from town this morning with the fish,
And I felt quite sure that mother 'd like it keeping clean and nice,
So as cook was out I put it on a dish.

And I left it by the fire and ran out to chase a mouse,
But, though I'm sure not a soul here has been,
You hardly will believe that now I get back to the house
That piece of ice is nowhere to be seen!

An Irish Bog Slide.

One of the curious natural phenomena of Ireland, a bog slide, occurred in the County Roscommon not long ago. Heavy rains, which the existing system of drainage was unable to carry off, filled the spongy mass with water until it was so swollen that it began to spread and slide down a slope. A village was invaded by it, people were driven from their homes, and a large area of agricultural land and a highway were buried under the flowing peat.

Dressmaker Appointed Postmaster.

Another woman has been appointed postmaster in Indian Territory by President Roosevelt, Mrs. George Keaton having been placed in charge of the office at Marlow, I. T. Mrs. Keaton is a dressmaker. It is thought that her success was due to the personal influence of one of her relatives with the president. The only other woman postmaster in Indian Territory appointed this year is Miss Alice Robertson of Muskogee.—Kansas City Journal.

Old Felt Hats.

In the course of a case at Lambett county court, London, it was in evidence that old hard felt hats, which were valueless up to a few months ago, could now be sold for $35 a ton, and the market was rising. The hats are burned to get the shellac, which is worth 50 cents a pound.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism.

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee. U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain. For sale by Shoults & Co.

There has been little war news from the Orient the past week.

Growing Aches and Pains

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used. 25c 50c, and $1. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Bunkers, the boodling State Senator, has been convicted by a Sacramento jury.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Shoults & Co.

Torturicci, the San Francisco murderer, is still at large.

A Good Family Liniment.

Every family should be supplied with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For cuts, bruises, burns scalds and similar injuries, which are of frequent occurrence, there is nothing so good. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain, but causes the parts to heal in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. As it is antiseptic all danger from blood-poisoning is avoided Sold by Shoults & Co.

The weather the past week has alternated between sunshine and showers.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufactures that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drank. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by Shoults & Co.

The defalcation of ex-Tax Collector Ed. Smith of San Francisco amounts to over $80,000.

Andrews, editor and manager Cocoa and Rockledge News, Cocoa, Fla., writes: I have used your Herbine in my family, and find it a most exeellent medicine. Its effects upon myself have been a marked benefit Sold by L. S. Simmons.

A Positive Neccessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. Byrens, Merchant, Doversville, Texas. 25c. 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, brings on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Tex., writes, Jan. 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take. Sold by L. S. Simmons.
